Dear Dr. William S. Stokes,

please do everything you can so the NIEHS adopts the new non-animal test methods immediately and completely (not only to set the starting dose for further test carried out on animals).

Furthermore government agencies that currently require the acute animalpoisoning studies should as a minimum immediately incorporate the in vitro cell culture method as a transitional means of reducing the number of animals killed and should fully support the use of this method as an eventual replacement for lethal-dose poisoning studies.

Regards

Lars Eichler